David Wheaton was one of the top professional tennis players in the world. During his 13 years on tour, David reached the semifinals or better in singles or doubles of every Grand Slam tournament, including the semi-finals of singles at Wimbledon, and attained a career-high singles world ranking of No. 12.

Prior to his pro career, David won the Minnesota State High School tennis tournament as a 9th grader, became the No. 1 junior in America, and helped Stanford win the NCAA team title.

David is now the producer and host of The Christian Worldview, a nationally-syndicated radio program and the author of two books: University of Destruction: Your Game Plan for Spiritual Victory on Campus and My Boy, Ben: A Story of Love, Loss, and Grace.

David was born, raised, and resides in Minnesota, and is married to his lifelong best friend, Brodie. They are the parents of a son and two Labrador retrievers.
